EVERY MEMBER A MINISTER

Adapted from New Life BP Church Singapore Newline, Sunday 14th January 2018

Ephesians 4: 7-16

The opening words of v. 7, 'But to each one of us', which begin a new paragraph on the overall theme of unity, introduce the motif of diversity in Christ's distribution of grace to each individual believer. Paul moves from the stress on unity (vv. 4–6) to diversity in vv. 7–10, and back again to unity in vv. 11–16.

Every Christian shares in Christ's bounty. No one is unimportant; thus no one can feel useless and negligible in the life of the church – read 1 Cor. 12: 14-23.

I. Christ's Gifts to His Church (4:7–11)

A. When these gifts were given (4:7–10)

It was after His Ascension. Borrowing an illustration from Psalm 68:18, Paul described the gifts given to the church. God is both sovereign and generous in His distribution of the various gifts.

B. Who these gifts were (4:11)

- (1) Apostles (4:11a)
- (2) Prophets (4:11b)
- (3) Evangelists (4:11c)
- (4) Pastors and teachers (4:11d)

In a strict sense apostles were witnesses of Christ's resurrection and were commissioned by Him to preach. Prophets, under the direct inspiration of God, carried out a preaching ministry that included both foretelling and forth-telling.

Evangelists ministered in a manner itinerant and external from the church. They were missionaries to the unconverted empowered with special insight into the gospel's meaning. Pastors and teachers most likely constituted two sides of one ministry. This ministry was indigenous and internal to the church. Persons with this gift shepherd the flock and instruct them in divine truth.

C. What's the Purpose of these gifts (4:12)

- (1) God's plan is for gifted leaders to equip gifted people (4:11, 12).
- (2) His plan is for equipped and gifted people to do the work of the ministry 4:12).

This is important for the church today to understand, because many Christians assume that "ministry" belongs only to professional ministers, or clergy. But ministry belongs to everyone in the body of Christ. All believers are "ministers" or servants of Christ. All have been gifted to carry out the work of God (Rom. 12:4–8; 1 Cor. 12).

What, then, is the role of the clergy? The apostle Paul says, "to equip God's people for works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up." The term "equip" means to cause something to be ready for its assigned purpose. When believers are equipped and people accept the adventure of ministering to others, then the whole body is built up, matured, strengthened, and flourishes.

II. Christ's Goals for His Church (4:12–16)

The final goal is maturity, truth, and love.

A. That we be equipped (4:12)

This equipping is primarily their grounding in the Word of God. This involves helping believers overcome the problems that hinder them, giving them a vision for reaching out to others with the love of Christ, and helping them develop and utilize the practical skills required to carry out their God-given tasks. D. L. Moody said, "It is better to put ten men to work than to do the work of ten men." The church is not a spiritual rest home, but a barracks for training soldiers of the cross. It is essential for the pastor to teach the whole counsel of God's Word, so that:-

- (1) We will be united in doctrine (4:13)
- (2) We will have a deeper relationship with Christ (4:13)
- (3) We will be mature spiritually (4:13).

B. That we be settled (i.e. stable in the faith) (4:14)

Children are gullible, vulnerable, and easily victimized. The church needs to work diligently at moving babes in Christ on to maturity (see 1 Pet. 2:2).

C. That we speak the truth in love (4:15)

Speaking the truth in love suggests that all that believers say or do should be honest and true, and said or done in a loving manner. Immature people often fall into one of two opposite errors. They speak the truth, but without love, or they love without speaking the truth. When we do the first, we often brutalize others, pounding them with truth but doing it in an unloving way. When we do the second, we don't tell others the truth, thinking that by shielding them from the truth we are sparing them from pain. We are not, however. All we are doing is delaying their maturation.

D. That we experience true unity - as we each do our part (4:16)

We must recognize that we belong to one another, we need one another, no matter how insignificant we think our contribution is. There are no little people in the kingdom of God, as Francis Shaeffer used to say, and there are no little jobs. We all can contribute, and when we do, we all grow to maturity in Christ.

Implications for NLBPC

1. It means that every believer is a minister. Ministry is the calling, privilege, and responsibility of every member of the body of Christ.
2. It means that the success of NLBPC & its various ministries depend on FAT people (FAT = faithful, available, totally committed; not double-minded).
3. It means that the ministries of NLBPC are to be born out of the heart and contributions (time, talents & treasures) of the people (members & friends) who make up the church.

This passage, probably more than any other single passage, sets out the direction God has designed for the church. No plan for church growth that violates the principle of Ephesians 4:11–16 can really be effective and blessed by God. - John MacArthur

SHORTER CATECHISM QUESTION 104
Q: What do we pray for in the Fourth Petition? A: In the Fourth Petition – (which is, GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD) – we pray, That of God's free gift we may receive a competent portion of the good things of this life, and enjoy his blessing with them. Comments: We now come to the petitions concerning ourselves – the order of the prayer being God first, and ourselves afterwards. In this petition we pray for the supply of our bodily wants. We ask for two things – a sufficient portion for the day, and God's blessing with it. Scriptural Reference: Proverbs 30:8, Psalm 90:17
