Postlude

The Lord Bless You

* Congregation Stands

THE LORD IS IN HIS HOLY TEMPLE

The Lord is in His holy temple,
The Lord is in His holy temple:
Let all the earth keep silence,
Let all the earth keep silence before Him -
Keep silence, keep silence before Him. Amen.

DOXOLOGY

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow;
Praise Him, all creatures here below;
Praise Him above, ye heav'nly host;
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Amen.

GLORIA PATRI

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be,
world without end. Amen, Amen.

THE LORD BLESS YOU

The Lord bless you and keep you;
The Lord lift His countenance upon you,
and give you peace, and give you peace;
The Lord make His face to shine upon you,
And be gracious unto you, be gracious,
The Lord be gracious, gracious unto you. Amen.

FELLOWSHIP WITH BELIEVERS

Introduction

John writes, “But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another” (1 John 1:3). Fellowship with other believers is a rich privilege and an important responsibility. Without it, our life would no doubt be very lonely and oppressive. Our fall into sin has cut us off from fellowship with God and godly fellowship with others; before God’s work of grace in our hearts, we instead have “fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness” (Eph. 5:11). But if in sovereign mercy God has engrafted you into His son, you have begun to enjoy fellowship with Him and, through Him, with others.

The Bible frequently encourages and directs believers to fellowship. From this we can learn that God highly prizes the exercise of this grace for the comfort and growth of faith. Reflect on the following practical ways in which the Bible instructs believers to enjoy fellowship with each other:

1. By assembling with one another. This is the chief way Christians can enjoy fellowship. It’s humbling to think that God has to warn us not to forsake such assemblies (Heb. 10:25). If Christians are providentially hindered from participating in corporate worship for a long time, it can be a great burden. Think of how sadness filled David’s heart when he was remembering the day when he could go to the house of the Lord (Ps. 42:4).
2. By cultivating and displaying a gracious spirit towards each other. We cannot properly fellowship with each other when we are around and self-centred. The Lord instructs us to show humility, gentleness, and patience towards each other (Eph. 4:1-3; 5:21). This often goes against our nature, but a gracious spirit is conducive to fellowship.
3. By holy conversation with each other. Christians from the past seem to have been better at this than we in our busy and digitally-oriented society. Bunyan’s Pilgrim’s Progress shows many instances in which Christian was helped by spiritual conversations with fellow-travellers to the Celestial City. God promises rich blessings upon those who cultivate such spiritually-minded fellowship (Mal. 3:16-17).
4. By singing with each other. Singing can greatly aid the fellowship of kindred minds (Col. 3:16). This happens in corporate worship, family worship, or just informal gatherings.
5. By avoiding fellowship with unrighteousness. Fellowship with ungodly people is a sure way to undermine between believers. Believers cannot afford to change like chameleons depending on whose company they are in. The Bible warns believers not to fellowship with the ungodly (Ps. 1:1; Eph. 5:11; 2 Cor. 6:1-17).

6. By celebrating the Lord's Supper. The Lord's Supper serves a number of purposes. An important one is that believers would be united in brotherly love through the Spirit (1 Cor. 10:17).
7. By encouraging and helping each other. We should see times of difficulty as special calls to fellowship with each other. Scripture tells us that if one member of the body of Christ suffers, everyone else should feel it and seek to help as able (1 Cor. 12:26-27; Rom. 12:15). Sometimes this will mean a word of encouragement or sympathy. Other times, contributing tangible help and resources is a beautiful expression of fellowship (2 Cor. 9:12-14).
8. By praying for each other. Can people still fellowship with each other when they are not physical together? On his many journeys and during imprisonment, Paul still enjoyed fellowship through prayer and thanksgiving for others (2 Cor. 1:11); Eph. 6:18). In a similar vein, Christians are called to cultivate fellowship with those who are persecuted by remembering them in prayer (Heb. 13:3).

Conclusion

Are you united to Christ? You cannot enjoy true fellowship with any of Christ's people without being united to Christ. If you are a child of God but are lax in your fellowship with other believers, examine what the cause might be. Are you humble, patient, and longing to serve others? Do you cultivate spiritual friendships? Do you use the means of grace prayerfully with a desire to be used for the good of others? In these times when the love of many is waxing cold, may God grow believers to exercise and enjoy deeper fellowship with Him and with each other.

A Song of degrees of David

(Psalm 133)

¹ Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

² *It is like the precious ointment upon the head,
that ran down upon the beard,*

even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments;

³ *As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion:
for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.*

SHORTER CATECHISM QUESTION 2

Q: What rule hath God given to direct us how we may glorify and enjoy him?

A: The Word of God, which is contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, is the only rule to direct us how we may glorify and enjoy him.

Comments:

The last answer tells us the end for which we are made; this tells us where to find directions for attaining that end. We could not know of ourselves how to serve God. But God has told us. He has told us in the Bible. To it, therefore, we must go in order to learn the way of duty.
